

Who are WellChild?

WellChild – the national charity for sick children – works to provide practical help and support to young people and their families throughout the UK as they deal with the consequences of serious illness and complex conditions.

We focus on three key areas – Care (WellChild Children’s Nurses), Support (WellChild Helping Hands) and Research – and through this we have been able to touch the lives of many thousands of children and families. We want to reach many more.

To achieve our goals we rely purely on the generous support from companies and individuals, without which we would be unable to provide these vital services.

About Helping Hands

Caring for a seriously ill child or looking after a young person with complex care needs is very challenging and time consuming. Many families find that there simply aren’t enough hours in the day to tackle essential decorating and gardening projects.

WellChild Helping Hands is a unique scheme that manages teams of volunteers from community-focused companies and organisations across the country to tackle hands-on practical projects such as decorating and gardening.

The WellChild Helping Hands scheme allows companies and organisations to join with a leading children’s charity to offer tangible solutions to families across the UK.

RSA employees find Helping Hands is a great way to make a tangible difference to a family or child in need. Our involvement with WellChild is a positive way of engaging with the community and promoting our reputation as a responsible company.

It was a fantastic day – everything was so well organised – and everyone was helpful. It exceeded my expectations because so many little extras were done as well, the main rooms are brilliant and we are all thrilled that Isaac can now move from room to room easily and join in with family life.
